A Swindling Scheme.

For some years past the treasury department has received from time to time letters from all parts of the country asking for information regarding certain large sums of money which, it is alleged, are on deposit in the treasury department awaiting distribution to heirs or persons of great wealth in Europe and America.

Among these noted claims is one of the heirs of a man of the name of De Haven, who is alleged to have loaned the government of the United States large sums of money during the Revolutionary war. Another well known case is that of the Robert Morris estate, the heirs of which, it is said, are entitled to receive from the government several millions of dollars. The Dunke claim also is well known in the department and involves several millions of dollars. The latest one is that of the heirs of Anneke Jans, who are said to be entitled to receive from the United States something like $90,000-000, which sum, it is said, has been received from Holland and now awaits proof of relationship.

It is stated at the treasury department that all of these claims are spurious and that they are made the basis of confidence games by agents who work upon the credulity of the uninformed. Agents, it is said, are selling bonds to raise money to prosecute these claims against the government, realizing something like $10 per $1,000 promised in case of success. The treasury department is powerless to proceed against these impostors.—Washington Post.

A Joke on Offenbach.

Offenbach, the famous opera bouffe composer, had an insatiable thirst for success and fame combined with a vanity that occasionally played him a sorry trick.

Once he was going down the Rhine on a steamer, among whose passengers was the Duke of Nassau, a fact of which the composer was in blissful ignorance.

As the steamer approached its last stopping place the bank of the river was seen to be covered by a dense throng of people who were shouting and waving their hats. A band on the pier was playing a march from one of Offenbach's operas.

As the boat touched the pier Offen-bach stepped to the rail and bowed and waved his hat to the people in acknowledgment of this flattering ovation.

"It is glorious to be received in a foreign land like this!" he remarked to his companions.

But his self complacency received a rude shock the next instant when the duke's adjutant appeared and said, in a rough and unfeeling manner:
"Get out of the way, will you, and let his highness show himself!"

Beauty and Education.

Why is it that woman has always been more beautiful than man? In human beings the attractive qualities have always been on the side of the female. Why is it? Without wishing to cast any aspersion on the members of the superior sex, we may fairly answer that it is because they have hitherto been the less educated. But woman's ideas are changing. She has listened to the voice of the tempter, whispering in her ear all sorts of sweet fallacies about equality of the sexes, intellectual development and its necessity, and the like, and she has yielded to the temptation. And the result of this will be that she will lose her beauty. She will suffer in appearance as man has done and is doing, and in the course of time the extremely civilized races of mankind will be ugly-irretrievably and lamentably ugly-

A Famous Pearl.

The beautiful pearl known as the Great Southern Cross was found in Western Australia in the year 1884. It consists of nine pearls joined together in the form of a cross, in which shape it was found by a man named Clarke.
It is said that the finder and the first purchaser of it buried it for some time, superstitiously regarding it as a heavenly miracle. It was, however, ultimately taken up from its burial place and sold for $1,000, since which time it has frequently changed hands and is now valued at $50,000. At the Colonial and Indian exhibition in England it attracted a good deal of notice and is probably the only natural cross ever found.

HAY-PAUNCEFOTE TREATY.

The view taken by certain Senators about the Hay-Pauncefote treaty has undergone a change since the adjournment of the last session of Congress. The question has been discussed before the country and the administration has had an opportunity to learn public sentiment respecting the treaty. It is claimed that the treaty will be rejected by Senators who support the administration with both eyes shut, which was not expected at the opening of the present session, for at least two reasons, one of which was the position of the administration at the close of last session, which favored a ratification of the treaty as it came from the hands of Secretary Hay to the Senate. The other was the position of Mark Hanna, who declared at the opening of the session that no legislation favoring a construction of the Nicaragua canal could pass the Senate until the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was approved in its original form.

The cause of the change of front by the President may be learned from an expression of the public mind favorable to immediate action by Congress for the construction of the waterway over the isthmus. When it has been learned by the people that the street car statesman does not hold the administration in the hollow of his hand it will be an unexpected relief to every lover of his country.

Senator Davis' amendment, it is claimed, will pass in the form it was introduced, which will remove the more objectionable features of the intended convention. It has been definitely learned that the treaty is the work of Hay unaided by Pauncefote, which has given opposition to the principles presented in the document additional force, as there will be no conflict between England's representative to our government and the opposition to an approval of the treaty.

Hay's personal views upon the political relations that should exist between England and the United States are presented and given the character of an American position upon the matters included, more particularly the position of the administration.

The former position of the President upon the ratification of the treaty, and his changed position will necessarily include the retirement of Secretary Hay from the cabinet of McKinley after the fourth of March. American sentiment and American nationality have received an awakening that has been the means of opening the eyes of the administration, and has induced it to look over the handwriting of the people, which has had an effect that was not expected at the close of the last session of Congress. As a result of a combination of causes Mr. McKinley was elected, which election was largely under a protest made during the campaign, which has had its effect at Washington, which is clearly indicated by the change made as claimed respecting the anti-American treaty formed by Hay. The time for taking a vote in the Senate upon the Davis amendment is Tuesday of this week, as arranged at present, when it will be known to the country whether McKinley and his supporters in the Senate have seen all it is at this time believed has been opened for their inspection by the people. The present silence of the street car statesman about the future of the canal in connection with an approval of the treaty, may have a meaning that is better expressed by silence than by loud and unbecoming speech by an American Senator from any State in the Union, but more particularly unbecoming a Senator from the great State of Ohio, where great men only are permitted to remain.

CAN IT BE TRUE?

It is claimed that the Southern Pacific is siding in the work to deliver Porto Rican on a steamer in San Francisco bay, bound for Honolulu. These people are under contract, as reported, to work on sugar plantations in the Hawaiian Islands. Many of them who have learned that the contract means a system of slavery are unwilling to go to the plantations, but when any of them make an attempt to escape they are hunted down and forced back to the train, which is on its way to San Francisco, by the Southern Pacific people.

There are some things we know of that would be more creditable to the railroad company, were they otherwise than they are, but we are not prepared to believe the Southern Pacific people would aid in bringing any class of human beings into a condition of involuntary servitude. There must be some mistake about the facts regarding these people, who it is believed will take an involuntary slave relation when they arrive at the sugar plantations on the islands.

TONIGHT'S PROGRAM

A. J. Waterhouse, Poet and Humorist, Will Entertain Tonight.

A. J. Waterhouse, poet, humorist and journalist, will entertain the people of Reno in the Star concert and lecture course at the Baptist church to-night.

Though a comparative stranger to our people, his name and fame are not unknown to us. The press of the entire coast unites in pronouncing him a star in the field of entertainment, a humorist of the first order. His audience everywhere are enthusiastic in his praise, which is the strongest evidence of his ability. Here is a poetic tribute to his genius, written by an admiring reader, which recently appeared in a city paper:

TO A. J. W.

One who loves his fellow man— Yet scarce knows why— Who bids the world to laugh, And not to cry. One who loves the little feet That tread Life's path And make it sweet.

One whose clearer, higher thought Brings near Life's perfection; Who teaches now what He had taught Before the Resurrection. Let not his song, so soft and low, Be sung in vain. 'Twill not, I know.

Five hundred people can be seated in the Baptist church, and this evening it ought to be full, as a tribute to the man, as well as to the purpose for which the course is given. To begin at 8 o'clock.

Tamale Party and Dance.

The tamale party and dance to be given by the Wheelmen Friday evening promises to be a very pleasant affair. The gymnasium is being made very neat. New curtains have been placed on the windows and the hall decorated in the club colors. The music stand has been moved to the southeast corner of the room and the punching bag and other apparatus placed where it will not interfere with the view of the stage.

Club members and ladies will be admitted for fifty cents a couple.

REMEMBER THE PLEDGE

Legislators Who Vote for the Lottery Bill Will Be Marked.

The lottery forces are becoming more confident every day that their constitutional amendment bill will pass the Legislature. They are reckoning upon purchasing a majority of the legislators, giving stock to some and money to others. The lottery projectors are relying upon the papers of the State to go to sleep (for a consideration) and not stir up the good people of Nevada to wrath and indignation over the iniquitous measure. If the people do not evidence an overwhelming and sincere desire to have their representatives stand true to their pledges and the platform upon which they were nominated, the senators and assemblymen will construe the apathy as a half desire to see the bill pass and the Constitution amended.

But our representatives will stand firm and down the bill that would morally and financially wreck the State.

The JOURNAL will mark for slaughter any senator or assemblyman who endorsed an anti-lottery platform and then stultifies himself by voting for the bill.

Such a man need never again hope for political preferment in this State.
His vote will brand him as a liar and a bribe taker, and the consequences of his treachery and breach of trust will hound him from the commonwealth he has betrayed.

There is no need for anti-lottery leagues, State organization, speechifying and, as a JOURNAL correspondent puts it, "fuss and feathers."

A majority of our representatives are above bribe taking, especially if they are watched—and the JOURNAL promises the people to keep both eyes open.

House Warming on the Meadows.

The young men of Truckee Meadows, feeling they were sadly in need of a suitable place to hold public gatherings, social dances, etc., put their heads together and formed a plan whereby a building that would answer the requirements might be constructed.

They rustled around and secured the co-operation and financial assistance of a number of the well-to-do members of the community, and the result is they have a commodious and well constructed building that will accommodate all demands which will be made upon it for years to come.

On Friday evening, December 14th, they intend to give a benefit dance, including refreshments, and tickets have been placed at $1, which includes gentleman and lady. The proceeds will be placed in the building fund.
By a series of entertainments of this character they expect to raise enough to wipe out the indebtedness.

The committee having the matter in charge extend a cordial invitation to the people of Reno to participate in the house-warming and promise a pleasant and enjoyable evening to all who attend.

Found Guilty.
The case of the State of Nevada vs.
Obas. Cantry, charged with embezzlement, was tried in the District Court yesterday. George H. Taylor, E. E.
Copeland, W. H. McInnis, E. M. Wees, W. D. McNeilly, Mrs. May Middleton, E. A. Morris, A. A. Smith and the defendant were placed upon the stand.

The jury brought in a verdict of guilty on the third ballot.

Fists and Guns.
There was blood on the moon for a while Sunday. The bootblacks of two neighboring barber shops had a lively set to and one was pretty roughly handled. He dug up a double-barreled shotgun and went hunting for his adversary. No carmine was spilled and the difficulty was patched up.

READY FOR BUSINESS

The New Smelting Company Has Completed Reorganization.

Within forty-eight hours the entire capital stock of the Reno Smelting & Milling company will have been paid up, and the works be ready to start up.
President O. J. Smith and the new board of trustees have worked hard upon the reorganization scheme and have overcome all the legal and financial difficulties that stood in their way.

The capital stock amounts to 15,000 shares. Of this amount $414 1/4 shares were subscribed and paid for under the old regime. The new management have compromised the claims of Hillhouse, et al by granting them a bonus of 2,000 shares. A bonus of 10 shares each has been given the members of the board of trustees.

This leaves a balance of 9,525 1/4 shares. Messrs. F. G. Newlands, O. J.
Smith and George H. Taylor have each subscribed for 1705 shares and the balance has been quickly snapped up.

The cash on hand will amount to $9,925.50. Out of this sum all the indebtedness of the company will be paid and a balance of about $4,000 will be left in the treasury. A large supply of coke and considerable ore is on hand. The treasury will be able to stand the drain of operating expenses until the first of February, at which time the capitalization will be increased to a quarter of a million dollars, and additional stock will be sold, sufficient to increase the capacity of the plant.

It is not expected to keep the smelter in steady operation till spring, but in the meantime all the ore brought in be treated.

Rev. Jones
Bids Farewell.

Rev. Fred Vernon Jones leaves this morning for San Francisco, where he has accepted the pastorate of the Park Congregational church.

For three years Mr. Jones has filled the pulpit of the Congregational church in this city. He has made a host of friends by his kindly ministrations. He never winks at sin, but his heart goes out to the sinners. A patron of athletic sports, his presence at events of this sort is a restricting influence against the evils that sometimes attend these affairs.

Although he tells plain truths in the pulpit he never gives his congregation "hell," because "I believe many of them will get enough of hell by and by."

Mr. Jones preached his farewell sermon Sunday night. It was an impressive discourse, a benediction, "The Grace of Our Lord, Jesus Christ, Be With You All, Amen."

Rev. Jones and his estimable wife will be greatly missed in this community.

The Case Dismissed.
"What's-Her-Name," the fair young oriental who broke three throbbing hearts in as many months, is again as free as the breezes that blow.

She was charged with bigamy, grand larceny and other things. Yesterday morning this mongolian lady was taken, moaning and tearful, to the Justice Court. Actuated by her sorrow and by the facts in the case, His Honor discharged her upon motion by the District Attorney. She took the next train for Wadsworth.

Don't Miss It.
Ed. F. Davis' big production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will come to the opera house to-morrow evening. The management carries forty people.
Specialties are given between each act.
A splendid orchestra is part of the equipment. Big parade at noon.

Branching Out.
Carl Walstab, proprietor of the Depot hotel at Wadsworth was in town yesterday. Mr. Walstab has spent $5,000 improving his house and has now one of the best caravansaries in the State.

Holiday Rates on the Northern Line.

The Nevada-California-Oregon railway (Sierra Nevada route) has issued instructions to all its station agents to sell round-trip tickets to all stations on that railway at one fare for the round trip on account of the Christmas holidays.

Tickets will be sold at Terro, Amedee, Constantia, Plumas Junction and Reno on Monday, December 24th to all other stations, good to return up to and including Saturday, December 29th.

The N.C.O. railway has been liberal, not only in making the rate, but in allowing so long a limit for the return trip, which will doubtless enable many persons to spend Christmas week with their friends.

THINGS FOR CHRISTMAS.

Are so plentiful in our lin that merely mentioning them would look like cataloguing, but here's a very incomplete list of what may make glad the heart of man or maid wife or boy—Table cutlery, skates, fancy scissors, pocket knives, miniature tool chests for the half-grown; full sized for the full-grown.

One With Wisdom and Experience

Knows where to procure his Christmas supplies of grocer-that you can't do as well. Get
